EMICROCON 2020

Dear Esteemed Member,

We are pleased to announce the First Virtual National Congress IAMM (E-MICROCON 2020) being organised by the Indian Association of Medical Microbiologists with the theme as "Surging ahead with clinical Microbiology in current challenging scenario" from 8th- 11th December 2020.

We look forward to your participation in this grand scientific activity in which leading microbiologists we expect a gather from around the country and overseas. National & international faculty including renowned Microbiologists and clinicians would be participating in scientific deliberation.

It provides unique opportunities to our young budding microbiologists to showcase their scientific work.

As a part of the organising committee, we request you to kindly register yourself with us for participating in the above-mentioned event.

For registration, please click on the below mentioned link:
